

Short Head

PHOTOSTAMPS, the popular form of postage that lets consumers turn their digital photos, designs or images into valid U.S. postage, make the perfect gift and provide a unique way to personalize your greeting cards. This holiday season share images of children, pets, travels, weddings and more.

BOWDABRA. Sandy Sandler created the Bowdabra because she couldn't tie a bow to save her life! And neither could the employees of her corporate gift company. Describing herself as creatively-challenged, she hired a design engineer to create this little tool, called it Bowdabra and sold more than 11,000 in 14 minutes on QVC! www.Bowdabra.com

Thirsty Light. The whole world has gone digital, it seems; and now houseplant care is going digital too! A new product called Thirsty Light Digital is a "green thumb" designed to take the guesswork out of watering plants. A blinking light alerts you when it's time to water. $9.95 www.thirstylight.com

Extension-thingy so you can be in your own pictures! I couldn't find where you sent a caption on this